SERVICES FOR HOLY THURSDAY BY CATHOLICS

Significance of This Important Day—Good Friday
Following Day.

Today is Maundy Thursday, one of the most solemn days of Holy week, it was duly observed in the Catholic and Episcopal churches and the Rose Croix Masons will observe the day with a banquet tonight.

Maundy or Holy Thursday in the early centuries was observed by the dignitaries of the church, including the pontiff and the sovereigns of Catholic countries by washing each other's feet in imitation of Christ. Now this is not required except of archbishops, bishops and secondary dignitaries, the pope prescribing such service by himself and his assistants. It is called Maundy Thursday from the ceremony of feet washing, called in the rubric "mandatum," which is the first antiphone sung during the service.

The mass of the day differs very largely from all others held during the year in that it celebrates the Holy Eucharist and becomes a service of joy and thanksgiving, being emblemized by the ringing of bells, and the white color of the vestments and ornaments of the altar. A procession of children will be a feature of the services Thursday at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Although this week was taken by the Lord by his passion, the feast of Corpus Christi is celebrated as an institution related to the holy sacrament. After the "Gloria in Excelsis" all bells and signs of joy are done away with during Good Friday and Holy Saturday until the angelical hymn on the last mentioned day. This is in commemoration of the silence of Christ during his great passion and to express the mourning of the church for the death of her spouse.

On Holy Thursday in the Vatican at Rome is followed a more elaborate service than all other days of the year. Blessings are given to the cardinals, altars, sovereigns and the priesthood. St. Peter's tomb is placed in darkness by the extinguishing of the 100 lights about it. This is followed by the chanting of the Miserere.

The day following is Good Friday and will be duly observed in the local churches.

OPEN WEST COAST LINE ON MAY 5

Tucson, Ariz., Is Planning a Big Cinco de Mayo Celebration.

The Tucson and Mexican West Coast railway will be completed from Twin Buttes to Calabasas by May 5, according to a report from W. B. Isaacs, chief engineer in charge of the construction work.

At Calabasas, connections will be made for Nogales, the northern terminus of the Sonora railway, which is the northern division of the West Coast line. In the event the road is completed by May 5, the $100,000 celebration proposed by Tucson, which will extend over May 6, will be carried out.

It is not intended to run regular trains over the road until the date of the celebration, May 5, although it is probable a short inspection trip will be made Sunday by members of the Tucson chamber of commerce, engineer Isaacs having offered to provide a special train to run as far south as the construction camp.

ROCK ISLAND TRICKS

ROADS GETTING BUSINESS
Fort Worth, Texas, March 24.—Railroad offices here today learned that the Rock Island by a business coup had secured all contracts for the big meat packers for all their carrying between Chicago and Omaha, which is a highly profitable haul.

The roads raised their rates between Chicago and Omaha, but the Rock Island notified the packers that it would carry their products to a station opposite Omaha at the old rates and thereby won the business.

POLICE WORRY OVER TRAFFIC

Have Difficulty in Instructing Drivers to Keep to the Right.

"Keep to the right of the road! If you want to hitch your horse or allow your automobile to stand, let them face in the same way as traffic moves." Thus spoke a policeman who has his hands full regulating traffic on Mesa avenue.

After turning about 15 horses in the right direction and instructing the owners regarding the change ordered by the traffic ordinance recently passed, the big policeman asked: "To see some of these fellows who drive you would think they were jayhawkers come to town for the first time to see a circus parade or something of the sort. They don't seem to know which is the right side of the street and as for turning corners, well some of them would like to take a few slides off the sidewalk just to show what fancy drivers they are. It is no cinch trying to educate some fellows regarding the rules of the road, but they will learn some of these days."

"It might be a good idea to publish the traffic ordinance in Spanish so that some of the Mexicans could learn it; however, they generally drive in the right manner once they have been instructed, while those who violate the ordinance are Americans who have probably read the ordinance over time and time again."

TRADING LAND IN FORT RESERVATION

Nineteenth Infantry Gets a Colonel and Loses Him Again.

The Army and Navy Journal says: "In the army appropriation bill the secretary of war is authorized to make an exchange of land with the railroad passing through the reservation at Fort Bliss."

Talent Is Cooped Up In New York Too Much, Says Artist

Says the Free Atmosphere of the West Offers Greatest Rewards to Art.

But the Artist Must Be at the Art Center and Lose The Inspiration.

That the southwest is quite as perfect ground for an artist as Europe, is the contention of Albert L. Scherzer, a magazine artist. Mr. Scherzer, a sojourner in El Paso, has much to say of praise for the locality about El Paso, and much of criticism toward the conditions against art in America.

"The trouble is this," explains the artist, "in America the talent is being cooped up in New York. As soon as an artist or a writer gains any prominence, he is shipped, like poultry, to the literary center, scolded. But it is such, after all."

"By the removal from his native ground, the artist loses his touch on existing conditions. He is compelled to paint or write about something which he does not see."

"The cause of it is that the artist finds it necessary to 'work' with the magazine editors. He finds personal solicitation necessary, when his pictures should speak for themselves, instead of him speaking for his pictures."

"Here in the southwest is everything. There is the width and contour of vision. But the American artists are not painting American mountains and American deserts. They are painting 'he and she' pictures—pretty pictures that have no real value."

"It is not true that there is no demand in America for the good. The very force of a good thing will appeal. Americans like good European pictures. They enjoy them and buy them. And they would enjoy pictures of American subjects just as much and more."

"The magazines are not encouraging art. The artist finds his hands tied. He must either copy some already great artist or make cheap pictures for the cheap magazines. He finds that he must live in New York city, barren of material."

"And, too, if American artists painted things typical American, there would not be this general going abroad of tourists. Americans do not know what America has to show, and the reason lies in the lack of typical American art."

With his sister, Miss Roselle, also an artist, Mr. Scherzer is seeking pictorial matter in Juarez and about El Paso. The Scherzers are German-Americans, students of the Royal academy at Munich.

RED LIGHT WOMEN FLOCKING HERE

Leaving Bisbee Because the Reservation Dance Halls and Saloons Close.

Bisbee, Ariz., March 24.—The officers of Bisbee state that since the city council passed an ordinance prohibiting saloons and dance halls in the red light district, practically 50 percent of the women who formerly frequented that district have gone to El Paso.

The ordinance takes effect on April 1, and for the past few days every train eastward has carried a number of the women to El Paso.

A large number of citizens residing in Upper Tombstone canyon will appear before the city council to register a protest because the Bisbee-Warren Street Car company has announced its intention of not building the line to the city limits. The street car management announces that the road as provided by the city is not properly pre-
